A FEW THINGS

Seen and Heard Circus Day That Was to Be.

The biggest thing that ever was here, though the train of animals never reached the city.

Mr. Bailey Waller expressed the wish Friday, while it was raining, that the rain would continue all day Wednesday and Wednesday night. He got his wish.

It was the first circus that ever came here and didn't carry away several thousand dollars. It left several thousand though.

It cost $1,500 to bring the circus from Owensboro to Hopkinsville.

Seven hundred horses and ponies, and the finest ever seen.

The show people bought every rubber overcoat, mackintosh, rubber shoe and umbrella in Hopkinsville.

It took 32 of those large Norman horses to pull the tent pole wagon out of the mud at Sharp's field. It sank up to the axles.

The bills for furnishing food for men and horses were very large, but hardly a man connected with the show had more than one meal that day.

One of the amusing things of the day was to see the sprinkler for the rings coming in from the grounds giving South Campbell street a good sprinkling as the rain was pouring down and the street as muddy as could be.

When the order was given to pull down what few tents had been put up a joyful yell went up from the tent men.

When the first train began to land here about 9 o'clock it has been said that the last section of the train had not pulled out of Owensboro.

The joke was on the local papers, which had been rushed through the presses before noon to give the printers a chance to see the "greatest show on earth" and served their readers with anticipatory accounts of the crowd performances, etc. Who ever heard of a circus failing to exhibit before?

Holland's Opera House had an overwhelming crowd, as the disappointed crowd would pay their money to see anything on earth. The performance was good and the crowd delighted.

The Paducah people were not cheated out of their two performances, though it rained a good deal during the day.

The tallest and the smallest living man attracted a good deal of attention as they walked the streets in rain. Some one wanted to know of the eight foot one inch giant if it was "raining up there today?" The tall man didn't "catch on."

It has been said that Ringling Bros.' circus will be here before long. They got the same dose last year, but they showed "all the same."

THIRTY-NINE ARRESTS

Made By Police Since Tuesday Morning.

As was expected, and provided for by doubling the police force, some of the visitors who came to town to see the circus Wednesday, "had a high-rolling time." The fun began at police headquarters Tuesday night and was kept up until Thursday night. In all there were 39 arrests for different infractions of the statutes and city ordinances, 10 whites being among the number. The following shows the condition of the "slate" yesterday morning:

Drunks	21
Grand larceny	2
Gaming	2
Breach of the peace	7
Concealed weapons	3
Profane language	1
Selling liquor on Sunday	3
Total	39

Only five of the above were arrested Thursday. Three of them have not yet been tried. The fines for the first two days "fun" amounted to $280.

A little more freedom was given to the patrons of the saloons on show day. Owing to the fact that they came to town to see the show and they didn't have a chance, and had to "blow in" a certain amount of money for something, many of them who "tanked up" were not molested as long as they kept quiet. The police force are to be congratulated on their efficient work. There was not a single fight and everything was very quiet for the day.

ACQUITTED.

Rev. B. F. Lawhern's Case Finally Disposed of.

The friends of Rev. Ben. F. Lawhern, formerly of this city, will read with pleasure the following from the Louisville Times' correspondent at Central City, where the Russellville district of the Louisville conference of the M. E. Church is now in session:

"The Rev. Ben. F. Lawhern, formerly pastor of the Hawesville Methodist church, who was on trial, received a complete vindication of the charges preferred against him. The Rev. J. Petree, who was chairman of the committee appointed by Bishop Hendrix to hear the charges, handed the verdict to Secretary Lloyd this morning, and it was read before the conference. The trial, which was held at the courthouse, was private. A large number of witnesses were examined."

The strongest feature of the October Delineator, aside from the fashions, which are splendidly shown, is the opening of the Countess von Arnheim's new serial story, "Fraulein Schmidt and Mr. Anstruther." It is now publicly announced that the Countess von Arnheim is the author of "Elizabeth and Her German Garden."

BIG CANCER IN EACH BREAST

IN WOMAN'S BREAST ANY LUMP IS CANCER

Troy, Ill., Sept. 26, 1906.

Mrs. D. V. Gregory, a wealthy, prominent lady near here, who was thought to be dying with cancer, has been cured of a very large cancer of her breast, side and armpit, with only two weeks' treatment, with that most wonderful island plant remedy used by Dr. and Mrs. Chamlee, of 59 Chamlee Building, corner Pine and 12th street, St. Louis, Mo. This same doctor cured Mrs. Henderson and a Mrs. Smith, of this place, just 34 years ago, of breast cancer. Also recently cured Capt. G. W. Sweeney, of such wonderful fame in the Civil War; Mrs. C. Borts, Mrs. Sarah Mueller, Mrs. John W. Miller, and Mrs. S. D. Duell, all of this section, so noted for cancer. He is the doctor who cured our Capt. John Mason, the first man to carry the news of the assassination of Abraham Lincoln to our Gen. Lew Wallace; Capt. Mason's cancer was caused by an injury received that memorable night. All the leading papers and scientific journals have been full of reports of their almost miraculous cures. Honesty is their policy—they treat without knife or pain, charge nothing until cured, and offer $1,000 if they ever fail to cure any cancer they treat before it has poisoned deep glands. They have probably the best 130-page book of testimonials and symptoms ever printed on cancers; sent free to those who describe their case. It contains proof that any lump in woman's breast is cancer; also that any tumor, lump or sore on the lip, face or anywhere six months is cancer. Dr. Chamlee is declared by his patients to be one of the most honest and conscientious doctors they ever knew. He is the best authority in America on the cure of cancers, having cured more in 34 years than any other doctor living.

HEART TROUBLE

Caused Death of Mr. James M. Hooser.

Wednesday night at 7 o'clock Mr. James M. Hooser, one of our oldest citizens, passed away at the home of Mrs. A. D. Hooser, on South Campbell street.

Mr. Hooser had been troubled with heart failure for a long time and his death was not altogether unexpected, though it was sudden. He had not been feeling well and had not been down town for about a week. He had no children and his wife died many years ago. He came here from Elkton some time since and had been making his home with the mother of his great niece, Miss Jennie Hooser. He was a brother of the late D. J. Hooser. He was 60 years of age, very retiring, but a good man in every way. His difficulty in hearing prevented his entering into general conversation, but he was always delighted when an opportunity presented itself for a talk with one who would bear with his infirmity. At the beginning of the war he was one of Todd county's most prominent and substantial farmers. He was buried in Hopewell Cemetery Thursday afternoon.

EQUAL RIGHTS LEAGUE,

So-called, is Organized By Mr. Geo. V. Green and Others.

The Democratic Equal Rights League of Kentucky was formed at a meeting at the Galt House last night, says the Times. The league is organized with fourteen charter members and a platform setting forth the object of the league was adopted. The organization last night was temporary, and Judge Frank Peak, of Shelby, was elected chairman. A permanent organization will be effected at another meeting, to be held at the Galt House Oct. 5, at which time each county in the state will be invited to send representatives. Thomas R. Asa, of Jefferson county, was elected temporary secretary, and Geo. H. Alexander temporary treasurer. The officers, with the following, constitute the executive committee: Harry A. Sommers, of Hardin; Geo. V. Green, of Christian; James P. Tarvin, of Kenton; Dosia Thornton, John J. Davis, Allen R. Carter and Clem W. Huggins, of Jefferson.

Other charter members are A. C. Lewis, T. B. Hamilton, Frank Coyle, J. E. Wright and J. P. F. Crockett, of Jefferson county.

The platform adopted by the league provides that Democratic committeemen shall be elected instead of appointed in first and second class cities, as is the custom in other places; declares for "equal rights" within the party; demands that the names of all committeemen be made public; that the State committees have no control over the subordinate committees or their affairs; that all local primaries be conducted by representatives of candidates before the primaries; that all candidates for office in Louisville be named by Democratic voters and not by committeemen; that no officer of any public service organization be admitted to the party organization, and that no candidate or office holder be allowed on any party committees.

Big Parade Gotten Up by the Frankels Circus Day.

"Grand Free Exhibition on the Outside" All They Got.

When it comes to advertising that pays, the Frankels are always on hand. Liberal newspaper advertising has always been their policy and it has paid big returns. Occasionally they make a break and adopt something novel.

Knowing that the circus would not have the usual street parade Wednesday, they got up a parade for the benefit of the throng that braved the rainstorm and stood about the streets all the day. The parade was led by Lebkuucker's band, who played to beat the rain. It was followed by eight or ten improvised cages, each containing a donkey, dogs, goats and other "untamed and untamable" animals, imported (from different parts of the town) for the special occasion (of advertising).

Everybody was anxious for something to break the dull monotony of the day, and as the parade of the "Biggest Store in Town," as emblazoned on the banners and wagons forming the "vast aggregation of talent, money and brains," the air was filled with cheers and laughter.

The Frankels claim that they are bigger than Barnum & Bailey, because they always exhibit (their goods) rain or shine. The parade was the best thing of the day.
